LOCAL BREVITIES.

There's no lack of wetness now.

The drug store across the way looks lonely.

The change from a soggy wet to a cold dry is delightful.

Union Thanksgiving Services at the Presbyterian Church at 11 A. M. to-day. Sermon by Dr. Morton.

Gen. Wingate has removed his office from the Zwart building to his residence, Jordan Cottage.

An excursion train seven coaches long, bound for San Antonio, Texas, passed down the road Monday night.

Let us all return thanks for the disasters we have escaped. N. B.—This is not to be taken in a political sense.

Monday furnished a good stay-at-home night, and it's 60 to 1 that nobody was out who could remain within.

The Nashville Students company travel in their own car. They now have 15 people and are extra good this season.

Don't forget the Ladies' Oyster Supper and Dance at the Academy of Music this evening. Oysters served from 5 to 10 o'clock, at 25 cents a dish.

Servants at Presbyterian Church Sabbath morning as usual. Evening services given by the Ladies' Missionary Society. GEO. H. DUTY, Pastor.

Remember that Bishop Tuttle will hold services in St. Paul's Church, Ironton, on Thursday evening, Dec. 5th, 1895, at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited.

Look!!!—Buggies to trade for land, or for horses, mules, cattle, etc. See the undersigned, or enclose stamp for particulars. A. B. MORRIS, M. D., Des Arc, Mo.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. B. Fox, of Russellville, on Thursday, November 21st, 1895, at 9 A. M., a son. All are doing nicely, and the REGISTER tenders its congratulations.

Circuit Court is in session at Centerville this week. Messrs. Beyersdort, Wingate and Fox are in attendance. They had the usual Reynolds-term weather for their trip.

May all readers of the REGISTER have, this day at least, a bountiful dinner, with roast turkey for the table centerpiece. May their stomachs be sound, their appetites good, and their need of thankfulness not wanting.

The REGISTER anticipates its publication day by twenty-four hours this week. It's a poor heart that never reads, and a sordid spirit that doesn't enjoy a holiday. So here's for Thanksgiving!

With this number the REGISTER issues a supplement containing Governor Swope's latest utterance on the situation and the causes which led to it. An able document, and worth any man's reading.

The streams no longer show their hollow beds; in lathering foam the billows lift their yellow heads, and downward rush their wild and devious course. That's what! But we can't finish the stanza.

The Wilson Theatre Company will show in the Academy of Music Friday and Saturday nights this week. We understand that it is above the usual grade of traveling companies, and this being the case, we hope they may be suitably patronized while here.

DIED—At his residence in Kansas City, Mo., on Friday, Nov. 23d, 1895, at 9 o'clock P. M., GEORGE M. PALMER, in the 43d year of his age. Mr. Palmer was well known to many of our older citizens, having been married Miss Millie Schultz in 1880, who survives him. To her the writer tenders his sincere condolence.

Hear the Nashville Students' Band, and Prof. Lowery, the greatest of all Colored Cornet Soloists, at noon next Monday, Dec. 2. And be sure and attend their performance at the Academy of Music at night. Best of Singing, Dancing, and Specialties—all to conclude with their funny comedy, "Aunt Jane's Wooden Wedding." Get your tickets in advance, and avoid the rush at the Post Office.

The first snow of the season came Monday night. All day the rain had fallen in torrents, but about 7:30 P. M. a change came over the spirit of the storm. Old Boreas came shrieking down from the north, the rain changed to sleet, and then to snow, and an hour later the earth was shrouded in white. Tuesday morning the skies cleared, and brightness supplanted the gloom that had for days sent Nature into mourning.

Don't fail to hear the Nashville Students and Wright's Colored Comedy Co., at the Academy of Music on next Monday night, Dec. 2. This is the same company that was here about a year ago and gave such good satisfaction. They are now still better, having improved, and with more people. It is just what all want. Get your tickets in advance, now on sale at the Post Office. Admission, 35c; children, 25c. No extra to get seats reserved.

Chas. P. Harviell, a pupil at the Missouri Military Academy, Mexico, Mo., came down to the Valley last Saturday evening, to visit home folks. Charley is well pleased with his school and associations, and we are sure will, when his term concludes, show good results for his time and money.

On Wednesday of last week some one fired the woods back of the farm of Mr. Sanford Russell, which resulted in the destruction of about thirty panels of his fence. Mr. James Mulligan also lost a small portion of his fence. This species of vandalism will get the perpetrators into hot water if they are caught. If there is no law to prevent acts of this nature, the sufferers by them will be very much inclined to make a law for each special occasion.

Last Friday night Jno. R. Russell, who has been a resident of Texas for six or eight years, or possibly longer, returned home with a badly injured hand. It seems that on the previous Sunday night, while attending to one of the engines in the Dallas water works, he was caught in the belt and torn and lacerated so as to incapacitate him from labor for some time. The wounds are healing under the care of Dr. Farrar, and no untoward results are anticipated.

The Southeast Teacher's Association will be held at Poplar Bluff, Dec. 26th and 27th. Prof. J. S. McGhee is President and is using his efforts for an interesting meeting. State Supt. Kirk will address the teachers on the evening of the 26th. The usual session in railroad and hotel rates will be given. The meeting will be profitable to all teachers who wish to keep bright and sharp by rubbing against their fellow teachers. Iron county should send a good representation.

The heavy rains of Friday and Saturday emphasized the numerous depressions in the sidewalks on Main street in this town. Miniature ponds were created, and the pedestrian who traversed the streets after nightfall found out their actuality without special seeking. Low-quartered shoes stood in water, and rubber boots were not improper to the occasion. A few loads of gravel, judiciously applied, would work a marked improvement. The east side of the street is especially in need of it.

Last Saturday night, after the agent had gone home, a party of tramps broke into a box-car standing on the siding. Among the contents of the car was a bale of comforts, and of these the tramps used liberally for that night. They did not carry any away, but left them lying around on the floor as they had been used. The agent, however, found it, and is sure the hoboes had enjoyed one night's good warm sleep. Lucky for the trespassers, they awoke and got out next morning before the agent got around; else things might have been different.

Mr. James T. Dobbins, who has been prospecting for lead about 4 miles northeast of Lesterville, has started another shaft or hole. They are using a churn drill and the editor doesn't know whether he should call it a shaft or hole. The first hole was sunk about two hundred feet, and the prospect being good it was decided to drill another. To make assurance doubly sure, the new hole is about 40 feet deep. They have not yet struck "it," but they have struck some quicksand that has given them a great deal of trouble. Reynolds county is no doubt rich in mineral resources if indications mean anything. With a railroad (which is already contemplated), and her mines developed, Reynolds would be some one near the top. Mr. Dobbins deserves great credit for his enterprise.—Centerville Reformer.

Mrs. Mangold had many of her friends last Thursday to dine with her, the dinner being given in honor of her friend, Mrs. Foster, from Harviell, Mo. The dinner was gotten up in elegant style; the table groined with all the luxuries of the season, and everything which the market affords was called on to fill the bill of fare. The hostess understands getting up elegant dinners, and this was no exception to the rule. After dinner, they had music by Miss Gentry, and German songs by four German ladies, who sang beautifully. We know it reminded them of their "dear old home across the deep, where their forefathers sleep." All spent the evening pleasantly, and will cherish the occasion with pleasant memories. Those present were: Miss Van Winkle, Mrs. Kuhn, Mrs. Mehry, Mrs. Nagel, Mrs. James, Mrs. Gentry, Miss Ashbrook, Mrs. Biemel, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. McGhee, and others.

Tramps are thick in the Valley as the leaves in Valambrosa were wont to be. Three or four tramps at night house for breakfast on the same morning is not unusual. Generally, they are humble and respectful, but occasionally, when no one but the womenfolk are on the premises, they become demanders instead of beggars—are insolent and threatening. More rarely, even when the man of the house is present, the favors desired are impudently insisted upon against his refusal. One evening last week, the door to a dwelling was opened, and unannounced and unwelcomed, a hobo walked in and took his seat by the stove. When the goodman asked him what he wanted, the reply was "To warm." That's all that was said, but the intruder held his chair down until bed-time, when he was requested to vacate the premises. He coolly replied that it was too bad a night to be outside, and that he intended staying right where he was until morning! Whether he did stay or no, we have not been told; but next day the owner of the premises bought a revolver, and said he thought he would hereafter try to have some say in his own house, even if it resulted in a burial at the public expense.

Have you a gold mine in our vicinity? The Farmington Times of last week has been telling of the Hixson and J. Watt Ritter claim that they have discovered one in Madison county, rich in the precious metal. The following are the facts as detailed by them: "In a deep gulch on the north-west side of a large mountain in Madison county is a true fissure vein of mineral quartz, which abounds in gold, silver and copper in paying quantities. Directly east across this mountain there is a bluff of rock 200 feet high, 75 feet from the top of which the same ore is found, and directly south of the mountain are strong indications of placer mines. In fact, Messrs. Matkin and Ritter declare, the whole mountain indicates the richest deposit of these metals ever discovered. Mr. Matkin, who has had considerable experience in mining in the far west, discovered the gold quartz on this mountain. He had some of it, which was obtained from near the surface, assayed, and it showed about $280 in the three metals to the ton. Mr. Matkin, however, says that this was from specimens broken off here and there, and of course was much richer than the average. They have only gone to a depth of about ten feet, but say that the mine is undoubtedly rich in the precious metals and that the vein runs clear through the mountain. If their sanguine expectations are realized, they ought to make a big fortune out of their discovery."

When stately chrysanthemums are in their prime, Christmas thoughts are in the air; and the happy combination of both in Demorest's Magazine for December makes it an ideal Christmas number. Page after page of handsome illustrations depict various phases of Christmas pleasures, and a timely article on "The Infant Christ in Legend and Art," embellished with numerous and beautiful reproductions of the Madonnas by modern painters, gives some curious legends about a virgin-born savior that exist in all the regions of the East. There is a superbly illustrated paper on the Atlanta Exposition, stories by Gilbert Sargent, which is given as a Christmas Supplement. Everyone who possesses the lovely "Yard of Pantheas" and "Yard of Roses" needs this to complete a trio of pictures that cannot be surpassed for decorative effect; and anyone may obtain it, also a December number of Demorest's, by cutting out this notice and sending it, with twenty cents in stamps, to the address below. The original painting of "Chrysanthemums," which is valued at $1,000, is to be given to the person who, previous to April 1, 1896, obtains for Demorest's Magazine the greatest number of subscribers. This is an unprecedented offer, full particulars of which are given in the December number. Demorest's is published for $2 a year, by the Demorest Publishing Company, 110 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Another turn in that travesty upon justice, designated "The Wear Case," was taken at Poplar Bluff on the 18th inst. We copy from the Citizen: "Pursuant to adjournment, Judge Riley of the 28th Judicial district took the bench here on Monday, the 18th, to try Charles Wear. The public is familiar with the transactions had in this case. Since Judge Riley was first here, when Wear was committed to prison, he (Wear) was taken out on a writ of habeas corpus before Special Judge T. H. Mauldin, and for the same reasons as were presented at the Dunklin county trial, again discharged from custody. The case was called Monday by Judge Riley, the defendant was not present, and at the instance of Assistant Attorney General Jordan defendant was called by the sheriff the usual three o'clock. Sheriff Hogg, when asked why the defendant was not in custody, produced the order of court, made by Judge Mauldin, discharging defendant from his custody. Attorney Jordan, for the State, made a few remarks in reference to the action taken by Judge Mauldin, and branded it as ridiculous and absurd. Judge Dinning, of De Kalb county, then addressed the court in amici curie, in which he held that as this indictment was for the same offense as the first, that according to the Supreme Court decisions there seemed to be no question about the jurisdiction of Judge Mauldin. Judge Riley held that the question of jurisdiction, or any other question affecting the defendant, could not be adjudicated in the absence of defendant, as the charge was for felony, and the defendant must be in court in person. A capias was ordered issued, directed to Sheriff Hogg, for the arrest of defendant, and an alias capias to the sheriff of New Madrid county. The case was continued, and set for the 20th of January, 1896."

The goldbugs may control the convention next year but we are inclined to the belief that they can't control the election. The readers of the REGISTER will remember that the writer predicted during the fight for silver in the special session of Congress that the hand of '92 would be laid up the hill and down on the other side. Will the people never be allowed to speak their minds on great questions? How long will the people submit to boss rule? Will the self-appointed American tarlocrats, by their chicanery, override the popular will until the last hope of popular rule by peaceable means shall have died? So it was between the Free Revolution and the Gold Bug that the revolution was made. The Dugan Cut Stone Co. have now settled upon the pay-day question—that of paying twice a month, and $3.25 instead of $3 per day. If Mr. Dugan had granted the demands of the boys—that is, to pay every two weeks it is safe to say that no other troubles would have occurred. But as it is, he not only has agreed to this trial demand, but will now cost him to induce Mr. M. to obey the will of the majority? When the Committee does meet, he ought to be reduced to the ranks without delay.

Parson Crowley's folks near Des Arc are said to have seen the Whatisit a couple of days ago.

Dr. Strong was in town Friday, having been called to see the children of Orb McCabe, five of whom are said to have diphtheria.

Dr. Strong was in town again to-day. Died—Mrs. Jas. Smiley, Saturday, at 2 o'clock A. M. Mrs. Smiley was a member of Anna Rebekah Lodge, No. 104, I. O. O. F., and was buried to-day with the honors of the order. She was a loving mother, a devoted and gentle wife, and steadfast in friendship. She leaves a husband and four daughters and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. Mother is gone—A home left desolate.

The family of Orb McCabe is suffering with the diphtheria. The new hotel is still suffering with incompleteness. The I. O. O. F. Hall needs a flue and a coat of paint.

Parson Crowley of Des Arc was in town last week.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the Spring, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish, and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, biliousness yield to Electric Bitters. Only fifty cents per bottle at Crisp's Drug Store.

From Graniteville.

Ed. Register—Died—On Friday evening last, at 9:20, of typhoid-pneumonia fever, Mr. Henry Hiltz, aged 31 years. Deceased was working for the Government at Ste. Genevieve all summer, at which place he contracted a heavy cold, and finally fever set in, which, while all the medical treatment and good nursing was ever at hand, could not stay or relieve the sufferings until death's icy hand laid hold and claimed him for his own. The remains were shipped on the following day for interment.

As far as we can learn, the sanitary condition of our vicinity is fairly good. Late advices from headquarters are to the effect that the Kansas City trouble is again settled in regard to the Federal Court House difficulty, and of which we have heretofore been made. The Dugan Cut Stone Co. have now settled upon the pay-day question—that of paying twice a month, and $3.25 instead of $3 per day. If Mr. Dugan had granted the demands of the boys—that is, to pay every two weeks it is safe to say that no other troubles would have occurred. But as it is, he not only has agreed to this trial demand, but will now cost him 25c per man more than he expected. So in this event the counter-charge gained by the men is a decided victory for them, and in the end an enormous cost to the company. Telegrams have been received here from Kansas City—men to come on, as business has started up again, and it is said several will leave right away; and as there is nothing much doing here, it is perhaps a proper move.

Jasper Fitzpatrick is home for few days' visit from Flat River. Several of our Graniteville people are working over there at present.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will give a Coffee Supper Thanksgiving evening, and it goes without saying that everything will be in readiness and taste on this occasion.

A series of meetings will be held at Workman's Hall on each evening of this week. Services will be under the auspices of the Presbyterian church and conducted by Rev. George H. Duty. All are cordially and urgently requested to attend. The topic of work laid out for the week is "Instruction."

Rupert Smith has returned home for a visit to his parents here, and will probably spend the winter in Graniteville.

Henry Rutschilling, our U. S. mail carrier for this route, has, we understand, sold out to Walter Hale—horse, wagon and contract; but as Uncle Sam is mighty slow and not quick in improving such changes, it is likely to take some time to make the transfer. Money consideration $85. We learn that the contract price for this route is $49 per year; 7 trips a week; distance 21 miles; time required 3 hours each day. So with a little figuring it is readily seen there is money in this Star route and is calculated to enable the carrier to retire after having served one term of four years, with a handsome fortune.

Jas. Dwyer has gone to St. Louis for a few weeks' visit.

On last Tuesday evening several of our good Methodists folk went in 'on Rev. and Mrs. Edward Koeth and some what disturbed their peace. Not until the occupants therein were fully made acquainted with the sudden appearance of the intruders, who were heavily burdened with all sorts of edibles, could they realize their situation. Eighteen dollars in money and groceries was presented to the Rev. and his amiable wife, and was highly appreciated.

The first sleet of the season visited this locality Saturday night and Sunday, making the weather rather chilly; but this we can put up with, in order to get rain, of which we are in need. Nov. 26, 1895. CAF.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Campontown, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call in a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy she concluded to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by all dealers.

A cup of muddy coffee is not wholesome, neither is a bottle of muddy medicine. One way to know a reliable and skillfully-prepared blood-purifier is by its freedom from sediment. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is always bright and sparkling, because it is an extract and not a decoction.

A Startling Occurrence.

Ed. Register—On Monday night of last week, about seven o'clock, as the pastor of the M. E. Church, Graniteville, was in his study, he was aroused from meditation by the sound of footsteps on the porch, followed by a rap on the door, and upon opening, found to his agreeable surprise one of the lady members of his church was before him, who presented him with a package that made him think of coffee, from the fact that it looked just like other packages he had seen that contained that very useful article.

However, nothing was said to enlighten the preacher as to the contents as it was laid aside. But everybody proceeded to try to make the visit as pleasant as possible. But they were destined to be disturbed, for about half past seven, or 20 minutes to eight o'clock, the stillness of the night on the outside of the preacher's home was broken by a sound that made the ears of those within tingle. And on going to the door, the preacher found himself in the presence of a large number of friends, ranging in size from very small Sunday School scholars, to—yes, to the President of the "Ladies' Aid Society." And everybody knows that Mrs. Graham has held that responsible position for some time past. There were, over forty in number, lighted up by lanterns, and under the leadership of Mr. E. J. Warrington were pouring forth delightful strains of vocal music—that grand old song that makes the breast of every patriotic citizen thrill with delight, "My Country, 'tis of thee," after which singing they proceeded to take possession of the preacher's house.

One was armed with a 50-lb. sack of flour, another with a large ham, while others had weapons that would assist the preacher in keeping the "wolf from the door," just as surely as those mentioned. They came in the shape of sugar, coffee, tea, baking soda, rice, salt, rolled oats, canned goods, brackers, apples, etc. After these had been deposited on the kitchen table, it was ascertained that groceries to the value of eleven dollars had been bought, together with a five-dollar bill presented by the "Ladies' Aid," and other cash donations, making in all seven dollars and fifty cents in money, being a total of cash and goods, $18.50, which were formally handed over to the Pastor by Mr. E. J. Warrington, who accompanied it with a neat little speech.

This was responded to by the Pastor, who proposed that they sing, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." The guests remained and had a very enjoyable time until after ten o'clock, and the married portion of the number proved to the satisfaction of every young lady and gentleman present, that marriage did not take the life out of a person, but rather the opposite.

Before dispersing to go to their homes, the friends and donors were addressed by Mr. Baum in an expression of thanks for the kindness shown, and especially to the "Ladies' Aid Society," whose members have been the staunch supporters and willing workers for the church so long, and who had in the past given so many substantial proofs of the ability and usefulness of women in the church work. The address was followed by another short talk from the Pastor, who assured his friends of the appreciation that he felt of their thoughtfulness, and desired to thank all present and absent for the way in which they were caring for his temporal necessities, and assured them of his best efforts in looking after their Scriptural welfare. After which he led in prayer, and all together sang, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." All went to their homes, we believe, realizing the truth of the Savior's words, that it is more blessed to give than to receive. May God's blessing attend every effort of this kind.

In Memoriam.

WHEREAS, Sister Alice Smiley now sleeps on yonder hill, and her spirit hath returned to Him who gave it. We mourn her loss and still are mindful of those to whom her voice was music sweet, whose fevered brows have thrilled to feel her kind caress; who often nestled at her feet and called her mother; and him with bleeding heart—her husband, our Brother.

Resolved, That in these we desire to give expression to the tenderness of human sympathies for the bereaved ones.

Resolved, That Bro. Smiley be presented with a copy, and that the IRON COUNTY REGISTER be requested to publish them. W. E. LEWIS, W. J. BENSON, F. F. HILBURN, Committee.

WHEREAS, A Brother Odd-Fellow in distress kindles anew the fires of fraternal love; then what greater distress, what more poignant grief than that which comes from the loss of a companion, the wife of one's bosom, the mother of his children. The home is desolate. Every moment one is reminded of the loved one gone. Such is the distress of Bro. Smiley; therefore,

Resolved, That we tender to Bro. Smiley our heartfelt sympathies and fraternal affection.

Resolved, That the REGISTER be requested to publish, and Bro. Smiley be handed a copy. F. P. HILBURN, W. R. LENCOR, Committee.
